Territory Analysis and Planning

UNDERSTANDING YOUR TERRITORY

Before you can build a territory plan, you need a clear picture of the landscape you are working in. This section helps you assess the full potential of your territory, understand how it breaks down by account type, and identify where your best opportunities exist today.

Great territory management is not about visiting every account equally. It is about making high-quality, intentional visits to the right people at the right time. A rep who makes 60 well-prepared visits produces far more admissions than a rep who makes 100 unfocused calls.

ACCOUNT INVENTORY BY FACILITY TYPE

Facility Type	Total	A Tier	B Tier	C Tier
Skilled Nursing Facilities
Assisted Living Communities
Acute Care Hospitals
Physician Group Practices
Home Health Agencies

Oncology and Specialty Clinics
Independent Physicians

A / B / C ACCOUNT TIERING SYSTEM

Not all accounts are created equal. Use the following criteria to place every account into one of three tiers. Revisit your tiers monthly and adjust based on referral activity, relationship development, and competitive changes.

A Tier: High Priority Accounts (Visit Every 5 to 7 Days)

- Currently sending referrals or has sent referrals in the last 30 days
- Strong existing relationship with at least one champion inside the account
- High patient census with significant eligible population
- Low or no competitive lockout, or known dissatisfaction with current provider
- Decision-maker is accessible and responsive to your outreach

Target: 10 to 15 A Tier accounts. These accounts should receive 50% or more of your weekly call time.

B Tier: Growth Accounts (Visit Every 10 to 14 Days)

- Occasional referrals or no referrals yet but clear pathway to develop them
- Relationship is established but not yet at the champion level
- Moderate census with meaningful eligible population
- Some competitive presence but not completely locked out
- Contact is willing to meet and engage with educational content

Target: 15 to 25 B Tier accounts. These accounts should receive 30 to 35% of your weekly call time.

C Tier: Maintenance Accounts (Visit Every 21 to 30 Days)

- Little to no referral activity and limited development path in the near term
- No established relationship or contact who is difficult to access
- Low census or very low eligible patient population
- Strong competitive lockout with no clear in-road
- New accounts not yet evaluated or recently inherited from another rep

Target: All remaining accounts. These accounts should receive 15 to 20% of your weekly call time.

SALES MASTERY MODEL PIPELINE TRACKING

Track each A Tier account through all four stages of the Spartan Healthcare Sales Mastery Model. Use this table to identify where accounts are stalling and what action is needed to advance them.

Stage	Definition	Count	Actions Needed
1. Discovery	Learning about their operations and processes
2. Connecting	Building individual rapport with key contacts
3. Guiding	Aligning their needs to your solutions
4. Commitment	Active referral or formal partnership

WEEKLY ACTIVITY CADENCE

Use this framework to structure each week. Adjust numbers based on your admission goal, territory size, and conversion rates. This is a starting template, not a rigid prescription.

Activity	Daily Target	Weekly Target	Notes
Total Conversations	8 to 12	40 to 60	Any live referral source contact
A Tier Visits	3 to 4	15 to 20	In-person preferred
B Tier Visits	2 to 3	10 to 15	Mix of in-person and phone
New Account Introductions	1	5	Prospecting to grow C tier
Follow-Up Emails Sent	3 to 5	15 to 25	Same day preferred

QUARTERLY PLANNING FRAMEWORK

Quarter Beginning Checklist

- ☐ Review last quarter admissions by account and identify top 5 performing sources
- ☐ Review accounts that referred last quarter but have gone quiet and plan re-engagement
- ☐ Identify 5 new prospects to develop into B Tier this quarter
- ☐ Reset weekly activity targets based on current admission goal
- ☐ Schedule quarterly business reviews at your top 3 A Tier accounts
- ☐ Plan at least 4 lunch-and-learn presentations for the quarter

Quarter End Review Checklist

- ☐ Total admissions vs. goal: did you hit it? Why or why not?
- ☐ Conversion rate: is your referral to admission rate improving?

- ☐ Account movement: how many accounts moved up or down a tier?
- ☐ Relationship depth: do you have a champion at every A Tier account?
- ☐ Competitive intelligence: are there changes in competitor activity in your territory?

TERRITORY DISCIPLINE

The best territory plans are written in pencil. Your plan should be reviewed weekly, adjusted monthly, and rebuilt quarterly. The market changes, relationships evolve, and your skills improve. A plan that you never update is not a plan. It is a wish list.
